

Someone Save ME!

by Don Portoff

There's a monster in my closet,
There's a giant in the hall.
There's a creepy, crawly critter
Slowly climbing up the wall.

I'm so frightened that I'm speechless,
I am scared beyond belief.
I am truly in a panic,
Someone save me, bring relief.

There's a spider on my pillow,
There's a lizard in my shoe.
There's a goblin on my dresser
With a face that's green and blue.

Must I yell a little louder
Will I really have to scream?
I am getting quite impatient,
Are they deaf, it sure would seem.

Now at last my door is open,
Mom has come to rescue me.
Hope she doesn't guess I've tricked her
Just so I can watch TV.
